

Cultural Proposals for Groups 2017/2018

Founded by Galeazzo II Visconti and rebuilt by Francesco Sforza in 1450, the Sforza Castle is one of the most imposing monuments in Milan, along with the Duomo.

The Castle's inside is home to several museums, among which the Museo di Arte Antica with the Sala delle Asse painted by Leonardo da Vinci, the picture gallery with works by Mantegna and Canaletto, the collection of applied arts and the new outfitting of the Pietà Rondanini by Michelangelo.

The Castle represents a unique and fascinating historical context from an architectural perspective too, specifically for its defensive purposes. With Ad Artem you can discover it by visiting the secret routes of the Castle!

The Building and the Museums

Masterpieces in the Castle's collections | GUIDED TOUR

This tour embraces all the most significant artworks present in the Castle's collections: from the most refined examples of Lombard sculpture up to Bambaja's virtuosity expressed by the funerary monument of Gaston de Foix, to the Sala delle Asse frescoed by Leonardo da Vinci and concluding with the Pietà Rondanini, Michelangelo's last work.

The Sforza Castle: a Renaissance palace or a fortress? | GUIDED TOUR

In this tour we discover the two souls of the Castle: in the section of the visit that takes place on the outside of the building we can analyze the defensive features of the stronghold and the rational articulation of the spaces that made this castle impenetrable throughout the centuries; by entering the museums, each gorgeously frescoed room reminds us of stories and anecdotes about the two illustrious protagonists of the dazzling court life: Galeazzo Maria and Ludovico Il Moro.

Renaissance masters: the Pietà Rondanini and other masterpieces | GUIDED TOUR

A tour to discover the great masterpieces present in the Castle's museums. Inside the ancient Spanish hospital it's possible to admire the Pietà Rondanini from all points of view around the sculpture. It's the undisputed masterpiece of Michelangelo, which he began at elder age and left unfinished.

Secret Routes

Battlements tour | GUIDED TOUR

Nowadays we gaze at the city from up above to take some nice pictures at sunset, but this was not the case for the soldiers patrolling the battlements, always alert to spot approaching enemies. The tour also includes the guards' room with reproductions of ancient weapons and the Santo Spirito Rivellino.

Please note: the tour is forbidden to kids under 10 years old
